

Digital Art Class

Corel Painter
Begining level

Sunday
8:30-10:00
10:30-noon
1:30-5:00

Jack Deere, Photo.Cr., CPP, F.Ph.

Elementary School for Painter

Jack will cover the basics of Painter and how to prepare images in Photoshop to make your painting easier. You will need a computer loaded with Photoshop and Painter 10 or 11. You should be at the intermediate or advanced level in Photoshop to get the most from this program. If you have little or no experience with Painter, you will get the most from this program. If you know a little something about Painter, then you will be bored. We will also cover the marketing and sales of Painter. Painter 11 is available for download on the Corel website as a trial 30 day download at www.corel.com.

Jack is one of our recognized digital gurus and has been teaching and consulting on digital workflow, Photoshop, Painter, and color management all over the southeast. He owns and operates Three Oaks Photography in Wake Forest, NC and has just moved his business back into a home based studio operation. He is noted for his ability to make very complex tasks easy to understand and remember and is also been known to break out in song for no reason.

Digital workflow and color management is perhaps the most problematic issue in photography today, the end result always being a guessing game. In this fast pace Digital Workflow and Color Management program, Rick will break through the barriers and show ways to create a solid and problem free workflow process. He will focus on three main objectives; working and dealing with Bridge, the in's and out's of Camera Raw and the issues of color in Photoshop, discussing the color tools that are inside Photoshop and show examples of when to use them. He will show ways of color correction, exposure compensation and advanced techniques to use when it just doesn't look right on your screen. Last but not least, he will show the proper way of capturing exposure correctly and proper white balance techniques in the camera. It's everything that the working digital photographer should know in today's digital age.

Adrian Henson, CPP

 Saturday 6:30 pm - Photo Session
 Sunday 8:30 am - 10:00 am
 10:30 - 12:00 Noon Cont'd

In this class we will discuss the components of a photograph and what emotions they invoke. We will discuss composition, color harmony, light rhythm, gesture and much much more. This class aims to teach students how to have their images achieve a desired response or emotion from the viewer.

For Adrian photography is a passion. When he is not at work making beautiful portraits, he is often out on recreational photography adventures. His camera rarely has time to cool off. Adrian has won many awards. He stays current on the latest trends and technology by constantly studying and reading, and regularly attends schools, seminars, conventions, and programs to further develop his style and technique.
